Van D. Merkle DC, DABCI, DACBN, CCN

During his 25+ years of practice, Dr. Merkle developed a very large solo Chiropractic practice and one of the largest nutrition practices in the country.

Raising the Bar:

Dr Merkle teaches this course, is currently in practice; and has actual patient case studies that prove and document, with objective laboratory testing, consistent results in treating serious diseases just like all instructors of nutrition should.

From the desk of Dr. Van D. Merkle:

"Your patients, like mine, are coming to you for answers. You can be the expert in nutrition for your patients by learning what tests to order, how to analyze results, propose an optimum health plan and best of all, retest for proof that the patient is actually healthier. We do not treat the disease, we treat the patient. Objective testing is the only way to take care of serious cases. When these patients get healthier, they will refer others and well...your practice will get healthier too. Remember, you are their last best hope."
